Immunization Survey to Be Made in County

The immunization level of children five (5) is the subject of a survey that will be conducted in Hempstead County beginning Friday, August 21.

The study is approved by the Hempstead County Medical Society and the Hempstead County Health Department. The survey will be conducted by the Arkansas State Board of Health.

A total of 960 families will be interviewed through the use of random sampling procedure to determine the immunization level for the diseases of polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, and small pox.

Local school teachers have been employed to conduct the interviews which will require two days to complete. All family units are urged to cooperate with interviewers Friday morning, which will start the immunization survey.

Hope has 512 of the housing units that will be visited with the remainder in Blevins, Washington, Fulton and rural areas. Similar surveys have been conducted in Grant, Mississippi, Crittenden and Jefferson counties. The purpose of the survey is to emphasize the importance of immunization. Especially important is the first few months of life.

Although some immunization are required to enter school, parents should not wait until then to start immunization. Most deaths due to whooping cough occur in the first two years of life.

He Breaks Through the Red Tape of Washington, Writer Is Flushed With His Victory

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flushed with victory, your correspondent can report that he has busted through Washington red tape.

"What kind of red tape?" you may ask. Federal red tape? No, private-enterprise red tape!

For 10 days your reporter, whom we shall call Mr. X, arose in the morning and found his wife grumpy.

"I've been letting my artistic eye roam over this room," she said, waving her hand around the living room of our modest house on the edge of Georgetown, "and I've decided it needs retrimming."

"Just look at that armchair you've been sitting in for 35 years, and dropping ashes on. Its stuffing is coming out," she said.

"Okay," said Mr. X who was in his usual morning state, that is weakened and defenseless. "Let's go over to a big department store and buy a new chair."

The store has a couple of acres of furniture and you can roam it without much intervention by sales persons. There don't seem to be many such persons on the premises.

Suddenly Mrs. X's eyes lighted up, she shed her grumpy mood and pointed. "That's the chair," she hollered.

Mr. X looked up a salesman, who shall be known as Mr. Y, and said in his innocence "We'll take that chair."

Mr. Y, with a pitying tone as if initiating a novice into the mysteries of big business, said: "But, sir, you cannot have it."

"How's that again?" inquired Mr. X.

"It will take me at least six weeks to get that chair from the factory," said Mr. Y.

"But I don't want a chair from the factory," protested Mr. X. "I want that chair. There it is right there, with a sign on it saying 'sale $99.'"

"Sir," said Mr. Y, "if I sold you that chair it would disrupt

Union Rejects Proposals by Auto Makers

By GENE SCHROEDER

CHICAGO (AP) — The Ford, Chrysler and General Motors councils of the United Auto Workers urged today that their companies be made a strike target in the automotive industry.

The councils, representing the men who work in the major automobile manufacturing plants in the nation, also voted to reject the contracts offered by the three companies.

The actions left it up to the union's 25-man executive board to decide finally whether there should be a strike and, if so, which manufacturer to call it against.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Ford, General Motors and Chrysler councils of the United Auto Workers today rejected new contracts proposed by the Big Three and left it up to the union's 25-man executive board to call a strike against one of the firms.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther called a mid-afternoon news conference, apparently to report the executive board's decision.

A UAW spokesman estimated that the strike fund, providing an average of $25 per week in benefits to each worker, would support a strike up to eight weeks at GM, longer at Ford or Chrysler.

All the Big Three contracts are due to expire at midnight Aug. 31.

Union strategy, if present is followed, would then be to halt production with a mass walkout at the target company's plants, while extending contracts with the other two firms on a day-to-day basis.

The strikebound company would be hit when it hurts the most — just when 1965 models are beginning to roll out of the factories. Its competitors, meanwhile, would have the auto sales field virtually to themselves.

In 1961, GM was the primary target. Ford was singled out in 1955 and 1958.

Bargaining talks between the UAW and the Big Three have

State Will Get One Job Corps Camp

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said Wednesday that Arkansas would get one of the first eight job Corps camps within 90 days.

The camp will be located in the Ouachita National Forest, near Hot Springs, Freeman said, as part of the administration's anti-poverty program.

The camp will accommodate 50 to 150 persons between the ages of 16 and 21.

These persons, out of work, and out of school, will develop outdoor recreation facilities, develop wildlife habitat, clear streams and work to reforest areas, Freeman said.

He said it will help the U.S. "catch up on a backlog of much-needed conservation work that has been piling up for nearly three decades."

Other camps will be in Washington, Pennsylvania, Oregon, Montana, North Carolina California and Idaho.

Red Tide Hits California Coast

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — An Orange County life-guard wrinkled his nose at the Pacific Ocean and commented: "The water looks like root beer."

The red tide, an overabundance of tiny sea creatures called plankton, moved south to Newport Beach Wednesday, and stretched sticky fingers all the way to Laguna Beach, seven miles down the coast.

The red tide has been plaguing beaches in the Los Angeles area for several weeks.

State fish and game authorities say the one-cell organisms, called cyanoblast polyhedra, over-multiply when the ocean water is unusually warm.

Barry Willing to Face LBJ in TV Debates

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater was described today as willing to face President Johnson in a television series proposed by the National Broadcasting Co.

Goldwater's press secretary Paul Wagner, said the Arizona senator wouldn't be interested in a format that would have the presidential contenders appear separately.

Johnson was silent on the NBC invitation to put him and Goldwater — jointly or separately — on the air in a full hour series of "Meet the Press" television programs.

NBC board chairman Robert W. Sarnoff outlined the offer in identical telegrams to Goldwater and Johnson. He said the plan was designed to substitute for actual television debates.

Goldwater could not be reached for comment, but Wagner said the Republican nominee "would accept on a face-to-face basis only."

"Separate appearances is hardly a debate," the press secretary said.

Meanwhile, Republican National Chairman Dean Burch charged Senate Democrats obviously were operating on instructions from Johnson when they rolled up a party line majority Tuesday night to kill legislation aimed at paving the way for debates on radio and television by suspending the "equal time" requirement for the presidential campaign.

"I can understand why President Johnson desires to avoid debating Sen. Goldwater, having seen the President on television several times," Burch said.

He said the Republican National Committee is willing to put up half the cost of television time if Johnson will agree to appear with Goldwater.

Goldwater, in a speech at the Illinois State Fair Wednesday, declared: "I am willing to debate and I'm willing to pay for the time."

Later, Goldwater told reporters "the Republican party will pay for it. We'll buy the time."

He estimated it would cost about $500,000 to air a debate on three television networks.

Sarnoff proposed a series of six programs, two of them for appearances by Rep. William E. Miller, the Republican vice presidential nominee, and the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

He said the programs would be scheduled Sunday nights on the NBC radio and television networks, between early September and Election Day.

NBC offered to make them available to other networks.

Nevada's Worst Fire Subdued

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — Bone-weary professional fire fighters prepared to go home today after subduing Nevada's worst range fires.

Behind them, they leave: More than 350,000 acres of charred rangeland. Much of it was valuable to northeastern Nevada stockmen for grazing their cattle.

An undetermined number of cattle lost, fences burned and minor ranch buildings damaged.

Many of the men had been on the line since Saturday. A crew of 111 men was still posted on the worst and most stubborn blaze, the 200,000-acre Boulder Flat-Magie Creek fire which burned a stretch of grass and sagebrush 75 miles long to the west and northwest of Elko.

It was controlled Wednesday afternoon by an assault team of 1,000 fire fighters. Skeleton crews mopped up five other blazes. The crew had totaled 2,300 men.

Plane Crash Lands, Only 20 Injured

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — A twin-engine DC3 airliner carrying 35 persons on a flight from Burbank, Calif., to Hawthorne, Nev., crash-landed on a desert lake 10 miles southeast of Tonopah Wednesday night.

A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said 20 of the 32 passengers and three crew members aboard were injured. At least two the pilot and copilot, were seriously hurt.

Capt. Harold Hopkins, of the Burbank area, was reported in critical condition. He was pinned in the wreckage for two hours.

The craft was a scheduled airliner of Hawthorne-Nevada Airlines. Most of the passengers were on a trip to the big El Capitan Casino in Hawthorne.

The FAA said Hopkins tried to reach Tonopah, but trouble developed in the other engine. The plane then made a landing on an unlighted strip outlined on a dry lake for emergency X15 rocket ship landings.

Growers Asked to Keep Beef Off Market

By JACK DONOVAN

CORNING, Iowa (AP) — The National Farmers Organization, complaining of depressed prices, has called for withholding of livestock from the market in a move for greater bargaining power.

The call to growers to keep their livestock off the market went out Wednesday to 23 states from the Rocky Mountains to the East Coast. A similar action was staged by the NFO for 33 days in 15 states two years ago.

"We want people to know where their pork chops and steaks come from and for farmers to receive a fair price," said Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., NFO president.

"The drop in farm prices started some 12 years ago and is now part of a longtime trend," he said. "NFO has been making progress in the bargaining field. But this shoddy action will give farmers the opportunity to bargain."

Poultrymen Air Their Problems

(Editor's Note: The following article was written by Arthur Wimmell, McCaskill, for the Poultryman, a national publication, and should be of interest to local poultrymen.)

Vertical integration in the broiler and egg industries was condemned in resolutions adopted at the state convention of the Arkansas Farmers Union in Little Rock last week. After citing abuses suffered by farm producers the convention called for the following steps to develop bargaining strength for the farmer grower:

1. Actively and aggressively insist on enforcement of the Packers and Stockyards Act to eliminate monopoly and prevent unfair trade practices. Insist that the P & S division has adequate funds.

2. Strongly urge the Congress to pass legislation to prohibit chain stores and other processors and retail outlets from engaging in production of poultry, beef or other commodities if their gross sales exceed $10 million.

3. Support all possible means of bringing supply into balance with demand, including national legislation which will establish farm quotas on approval of a majority of producers voting in a referendum.

4. Make every effort to return and retain decision making at the farm level, thereby giving farmers more bargaining power and better incomes.

5. Aggressively work toward the goal of uniting broiler growers and farm egg producers so that their true interests can be aggressively pursued on legislation at the national level. Among the abuses of vertical integration sustained by farm producers of eggs and broilers, and cited by the 24-man committee which drafted the Farmers Union resolutions, were the following:

1. As a result of vertical integration the poultry farm producer has lost all voice and decision making authority and has no bargaining power.

2. Contracts are offered on a "take it or leave it" basis.

3. Growers have a great risk in capital investment for buildings and equipment and may be eliminated, discriminated against or bankrupted through no fault of their own.

4. Growers have been compelled to sign mortgage notes making them liable for production costs in the event the integrator should meet serious reverses. An amendment was offered from the convention floor by an attorney which called for the Farmers Union to sponsor state legislation to declare such contracts void in Arkansas.

5. Once established with his capital investment, the grower is the captive of the integrated poultry industry.

The resolutions also called attention to the battle between corporate giants of the feed industry and others for feed tonnage, the end result being no longer the broiler, but income from feed sales. This battle for feed sales has led to constant over production with a resulting low price for ty to suddenly stop their punishment at the market place."

Staley 41, in his ninth year as president, said the "action will be by far the greatest show of bargaining power that American farmers have ever made."

The NFO, now in its 10th year, seeks to sign processors to contracts, thus assuring a steady flow of livestock to market at predetermined prices.

The minimum prices the NFO seeks are the same as two years ago: $22.75 a hundredweight for No. 1 and graded hogs $32.45 for choice beef cattle and $29.45 a hundredweight for sheep.

Not since 1958, have hogs brought the NFO asking price. Within the last two years hog prices dropped to $4.00 a hundredweight. Earlier this year cattle sold for $20.50.

The result of the 1962 holding action, which was marked by some violence, was never clearly determined. The NFO claimed success. The processors said they were able to get sufficient livestock for slaughter. However, prices paid at the market place did rise slightly.

States involved in the current holding action are Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri Wisconsin Indiana Ohio Kentucky Nebraska Kansas, North and South Dakota, Michigan, Tennessee Colorado New Jersey New York, Pennsylvania Idaho Arkansas Oklahoma, Wyoming and West Virginia.

Warns More School Suits for Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A massive court assault on public school desegregation in Arkansas will be launched soon by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, an NAACP official said here Wednesday.

L.C. Bates of Little Rock, an NAACP filed secretary, said the suits would attempt to start or step up desegregation in Little Rock, North Little Rock, Texarkana, El Dorado, West Memphis, St. Francis County and Lincoln County.

"By this time next month we may have 15 to 20 cities" involved in the suits Bates said.

Bates said Negro parents in a number of cities planned to try to register their children at all-white schools. If this fails, "they probably will come in on the suits," Bates said.

He said the suits to be filed within a month, will ask for desegregation of all grades.

"It's been 10 1/2 years since the U.S. Supreme Court's decision (on school desegregation)," he said. "Quite a few districts haven't moved at all to comply with the law. Those that have moved have done so on a token basis."

"We don't intend to let these school boards get away with no no integration or token integration," Bates said.

Tshombe Out to Remove His Foes

By ROBIN MANNOK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Premier Moise Tshombe moved today to oust thousands of citizens of nations accused of undercutting his regime, as fighting raged in the east Congo city of Bukavu invaded by rebel forces.

As the spreading Communist-backed rebellion seemed to take a turn for the worse, Tshombe said he believed a report that Peking-trained rebel leader Pierre Mulele, 33, was dead. Diplomatic sources, however, believe the former Congolese education minister was alive in Brazzaville the former French Congo.

Government forces in Bukavu were reported pushed back to the city's European quarter, but Col. Leonard Mulamba said he believed he could retake the rebel-held part of the city if reinforcements were available. U.S. cargo planes airlifted two loads of troops and supplies to the besieged city during the night.

The U.S. Embassy said that its seven or eight-man staff in Bukavu fled to neighboring Rwanda after heavy street fighting erupted Wednesday. A plane load of 40 refugees, mostly U.N. personnel, arrived in Leopoldville Wednesday night.

A government garrison of some 800 troops was fighting to salvage the city, capital of central Kivu Province and the only important city in the turbulent northeastern Congo still under government control.

The rebels, who hold an estimated 25 per cent of this vast and mineral-rich nation, captured the key city of Stanleyville two weeks ago.

The Bukavu uprising came after a government order in Leopoldville to deport citizens of Brazzaville, Burundi and Mali whose governments are accused of backing the revolt.

Denouncing the governments as accomplices of Communist China, Tshombe told a news conference that his order would be lifted only if their support of the rebellion ends. He accused China of moving to use the Congo as a base to take over all of Africa.

The meeting is to give the judges a chance to get better acquainted and to tour Mississippi County.

Union Talks Over Hoffa's Legal Fees

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI BEACH Fla. (AP) — The Teamsters Union's executive council hears a report today on the question of who pays President James R. Hoffa's legal expense.

Hoffa said Wednesday the report will be submitted by attorneys to the 15-man board at its quarterly meeting here.

Hoffa agreed several weeks ago to stop using union money to pay his lawyers. Since then he has been convicted in Chicago of conspiring to defraud the union's pension fund in a $20-million loan scheme.

Hoffa was sentenced to four terms of five years each to run concurrently.

In Washington Wednesday, nearly 500 union members from nine locals filed a petition asking to join a suit seeking recovery of all union funds spent defending Hoffa and other union officials tried on criminal charges. The amount is estimated at $3 million.

The suit, filed several months ago by six members of Local 107 in Philadelphia, charges a violation of a federal labor law provision which requires that union funds be spent solely for the benefit of the union.

Hoffa hotly denied there was a movement to replace him as president.

"There's no question in my mind about who's running the union," Hoffa said. "There's no revolt and there will be no revolt."

3 Americans Missing in the Congo

By ROBIN MANNOK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Three Americans were reported missing today in the eastern Congolese city of Bukavu, where messages said fighting persisted between government soldiers and Communist-backed rebels.

The U.S. Embassy in Leopoldville said it was without word from its vice consul in Bukavu, Louis R. McCarlane, 25, of Seattle and two Army officers attached to the U.S. military mission to the Congo.

The officers are Col. William A. Dodds the 50-year-old counter-insurgency expert, and Lt. Col. Donald V. Raitan, 40, an infantry officer from Alexandria Va.

Housing Bids

BATESVILLE Ark. (AP) — Newkirk Construction Co. of Hot Springs submitted an apparent low bid of $446,400 Tuesday on a contract to build a dormitory to house 112 women at Arkansas College here. The federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, which loaned the college construction funds, will consider the bid.

Chisox Rushing Up as Yanks Hit Trouble

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

While the Chicago White Sox are rushing toward the top of the American League, the New York Yankees are having trouble.

The White Sox moved to within one-half game of first-place Baltimore Wednesday night, taking advantage of three Yankee errors for four unearned runs and a 4-2 victory. The Orioles lost to Boston 4-3 in 10 innings. Pitcher Jim Bouton and third baseman Clete Boyer were the Yankees who had the troubles.

The malady first appeared in the third inning after the White Sox loaded the bases with two out. Pete Ward grounded to first baseman Joe Pepitone, who tossed the ball to Bouton at first. The throw was in time, but Bouton missed the base, allowing Ray Herbert to score.

His error upset Bouton so much that he threw the ball down in disgust. As it trickled near the first base coaching box, Jim Landis, who had reached third on the first miscue, dashed home with the run that gave Chicago a 2-1 lead.

Te troubles mushroomed into catastrophe in the seventh inning when Chicago scored two runs, breaking a 2-2 deadlock.

With runners at first and second and none out, J. C. Martin hunted along the third base line. Bouton grabbed the ball, but his throw to third for the force was too late. But wait, Mike Hersberger slid past the base.

Boyer alertly pounced on the runner, tagging him for an apparent out. But wait again. The ball trickled out of Boyer's glove, and the White Sox had the bases loaded.

Bouton settled down briefly, striking out Cam Carreon. Then, however, he walked Landis for one run, and Pete Mikkelsen replaced him. Don Buford ended the scoring with a sacrifice fly that scored on Hansen.

The loss kept the Yankees four games behind Baltimore. In other AL games, Detroit defeated Los Angeles 5-2, Minnesota downed Washington 3-1 and Cleveland outlasted Kansas City 6-4.

In the National League, Philadelphia bumped Chicago 9-5, Cincinnati dined San Francisco 7-1. Houston nipped St. Louis 8-7 in 10 innings. New York beat Pittsburgh 4-2 and Los Angeles edged Milwaukee 7-6.

The Orioles also experienced difficulty with a trickling baseball. In their case it was a couple of bunts that rolled foul. They came off the bat of Boston rookie Tony Horton in the 10th inning with Carl Yastrzemski at first. After he failed to sacrifice, Horton slammed a double into the left field corner, scoring Yastrzemski with the winning run.

Baltimore sent the game into overtime on Jerry Adair's triple and John Orsino's sacrifice fly in the eighth inning. Orsino earlier had homered for the Orioles as did Boog Powell.

Detroit grabbed sole possession of fourth place behind Don Demeter and Norm Cash. Demeter's pinch single drove in the tie-breaking run against the An-

Bobcats to Go at It With Pads Thursday

By CARTER HARDAGE

Hope Star Sports Writer

The 1964 version of the Hope Bobcat began practice in earnest this morning by a two-hour workout in pads.

Although the twenty-nine boys have been at it twice a day since Friday, AAA rules forbid the practices to be made with pads until today.

The Bobcats are under the direction of new head coach Alan Howard, who last year was line coach for the state champion Pine Bluff Zebras.

Thus far, Coach Howard has been stressing fundamentals.

This season Hope will depend on a T-formation for the offensive punch with split ends, flankers, and slotmen. For defense, the Cats will be depending on the monster defense as used by the University of Arkansas.

Although Coach Howard declined any wholesale predictions as being too early, he later added that the team "was determined to make the predictions come true." The Cats have been picked by 4AA coaches for a repeat of last season's district championship.

"We demand — and we are going to have — respect for law and order in this land," Johnson said Tuesday in addressing members of the Citizens Committee for Community Relations that will help implement the new Civil Rights Act.

Using the occasion to lecture the country on the racial issue, Johnson spoke sharply about speculation on the effects of the "white backlash" in the forthcoming election.

He said it is time to "cease this cynical guessing of who will be helped — who will be hurt — by disorders and disobedience and disrespect for the decency of our society."

"All will be hurt — none will be helped — if responsible citizens sit on the sidelines regarding the stability of our society as a spectator sport."

The question facing the nation, he said, is not how whites or Negroes will vote in November. "The question is now they shall work together and succeed together for the next hundred years to come."

Americans, he said, can master the racial problem "or we can leave it to master us" and the question all citizens must ask themselves is "are we prepared to give up our prosperity

"Are we of this generation to be remembered for allowing America's progress to run aground on the shoals of race?"

A nation of courage, compassion and common sense, Johnson added, "must not and will not allow its greatness to be degraded by those who work only for its division."

The President returned to the subject of racial problems later in the day when he spoke to some 90 U.S. marshals, in town for a conference, gathered on the White House lawn.

He reminded the marshals "that lawlessness is found in many places and many forms" and added: "sophisticated syndicates which systematically evade the law are no more tolerable to a law-abiding society than spontaneous street demonstrations which degenerate into disregard for the law."

Phils Nursing 6 Game Lead in National

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies were nursing a six-game lead today in the National League pennant race.

The San Francisco Giants and Cincinnati Reds were nursing welts.

The Phillies built their lead over second-place San Francisco to the biggest of the season by whipping the Chicago Cubs 9-5 Wednesday after the Reds handed the Giants their fourth straight loss 7-1 in the biggest beanball battle of the season.

The Reds-Giants game was still in the top of the first inning when Cincinnati's Frank Robinson was hit on the left arm by a Ron Herbel pitch. Robinson started toward the San Francisco pitcher but was restrained by Umpire Chris Pelekoudas while Giant shortstop Jim Davenport grabbed Herbel as both benches emptied.

The umpires had to step in only a few minutes later when Robinson started from first base toward Herbel. And, later, when Robinson was retired at second base on a double play, he and Davenport had a few words.

"I know when I'm getting thrown at," said an angered Robinson after the game.

"He was yelling things at me I can't even repeat," said Herbel. "I was ready to fight him."

Reds' starter Bob Purkey was hit by a John Pregoner pitch in the fourth inning, bringing a warning from Pelekoudas and an automatic fine. Purkey, meanwhile, evened the struggle by hitting Jim Hart twice.

In between, Robinson hit two homers and Chico Ruiz collected four hits in support of Purkey's six-hit pitching, pulling the Reds to within one game of the Giants in the standings. The Giants skid has brought them closer to sixth place than first.

Elsewhere, Jim Hickman's grand slam homer gave the New York Mets a 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh, Houston edged the St. Louis Cardinals 8-7 on a run-producing single by Nellie Fox in the 10th inning and the Los Angeles Dodgers outslugged Milwaukee 7-6 with a 14-hit attack.

The Chicago White Sox closed to within one-half game of American League leading Baltimore by defeating the New York Yankees 4-2 while the Orioles lost to Boston 4-3 in 10 innings. Detroit whipped the Los Angeles Angels 5-2, Minnesota downed Washington 3-1 and Cleveland took Kansas City 6-4.

Robinson was hit by Herbel after Vada Pinson had doubled home two runs for the Reds in the first. Robinson then did some of his own hitting, slamming his 23rd homer in the third inning and No. 24 in the seventh.

Purkey brought the record to 7-7, allowing the Giants only run when he threw wild on a grounder after Hal Lanier doubled.

The Phillies got the job done in the eighth inning, overcoming a 5-4 deficit with a five-run explosion. Clay Dalrymple and Tony Taylor triggered the rally with singles before Wes Covington drove in the tying and winning runs with a pinch double.

The Cubs had snapped a 4-4 tie in the top half of the inning on singles by Joey Amalfitano, Billy Williams and Ron Santo, who earlier hit his 24th homer.

The Mets won their fourth straight — their longest winning streak of the season — when Hickman blasted a Vern Law pitch into the parking area beyond left field with the bases loaded in the sixth inning.

That was more than enough for Tracy Stallard, who had a shutout until Bill Virdon hit a two-run homer in the ninth. Stallard brought his record to 7-16 with a six-hitter.

The Colls tied the score in the ninth when Bob Aspromonte drove in his fourth run with a single after the Cardinals had taken the lead with four runs in

Integration Lawsuits Are Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Negro leader said today that school integration lawsuits would be filed this year in Little Rock, North Little Rock and other local districts throughout Arkansas.

L. C. Bates of Little Rock, field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, did not name any school districts outside of Little Rock and North Little Rock.

He said a suit would be filed challenging the Little Rock district's pupil placement plan, and that North Little Rock officials can expect a suit even though they have adopted a voluntary plan of school desegregation.

The North Little Rock plan is to go into effect this fall in the first and second grades.

"We don't intend to let these school boards get away with no integration or token integration," Bates said.

Some 123 Negroes attended once-white schools in Little Rock last year. This fall, the Little Rock School Board will complete its plan to desegregate all grades.

Negroes have complained that the board is progressing too slowly and actually has only token desegregation.

Federal courts approved the board's pupil placement plan but warned the board not to use it as a device for limiting the number of Negroes in predominantly white schools.

Seven Arkansas districts will desegregate this fall, bringing to 20 the number of districts with some Negroes attending predominantly white schools. This is less than five per cent of the state's 414 districts.

Bates was asked in the interview if the NAACP planned a suit attacking the legality of the private club operation of the state Capitol cafeteria.

He said there was no rush to do so. State officials would welcome a lawsuit against the Capitol Club "to get them off the hook" of an "embarrassing predicament," Bates said.

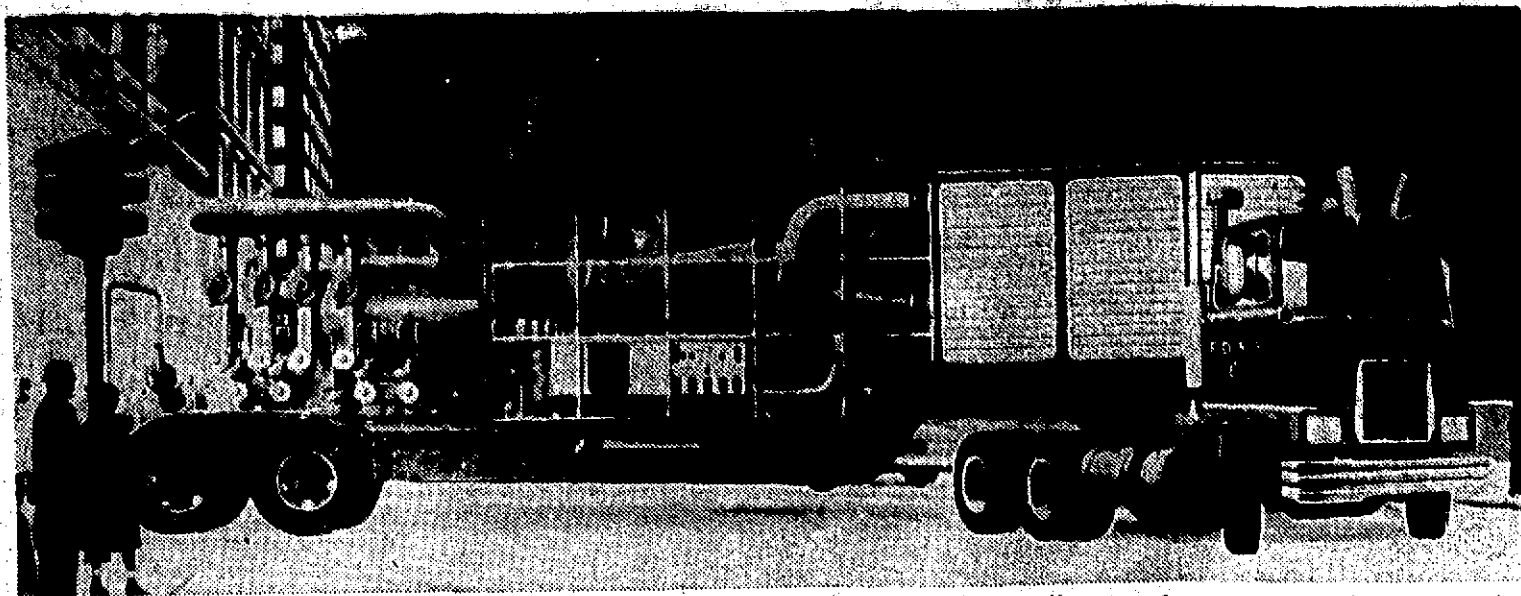

Bates said he knew of no Negro demonstrations planned in the Little Rock-North Little Rock area. The NAACP, he said, "is presently too busy getting Negro voters qualified and better education for Negroes" to engage in other activities.

State Ranks Well in Rehabilitation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas ranked fourth—in the nation in the percentage of its population rehabilitated for work during the fiscal year ended June 30, the state Rehabilitation Service said today.

Miss Mary E. Switzer, commissioner of vocational rehabilitation, said Arkansas had 3,000 disabled men and women rehabilitated during the year, or 161 persons per 100,000 population. West Virginia led with 218 per 100,000. The national average was 63.

Scholars presume that Julius Caesar gave the name of Hibernia to Ireland.

The giant pumper and a companion hose tender are being built by the Mack Truck Company at a cost of about $875,000.

Johnsons Worth More, Burch Says

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Dean Burch indicates he believes President Johnson and his family are a lot richer than accountants say and that Republicans intend to make a campaign issue of how the first family accumulated its wealth.

Burch, who was handpicked for his job by GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, told a news conference Wednesday that the accounting firm's estimate of the Johnsons' wealth at $3,484,098 was "incredibly low."

The accounting was made at Johnson's request and the report was released by the White House.

Burch complained that assets were listed on the basis of cost to the Johnsons. He said this was "like listing the value of Manhattan Island at $24."

He insisted the fair market value ought to be the basis for assessing the family wealth.

Some published reports have placed the Johnson family worth as high as $14 million, contending the market value of the Johnson holdings far exceeded their book value.

Burch said he found it peculiar that "the bulk of the fortune was made in areas subject to government regulation" over a period when he said Johnson was making an average of $12,000 a year in public service.

Observing that "a public officer must avoid not only evil but the appearance of evil," he said the Republicans want to know whether there was any "influence aired in the government-regulated field."

The accounting firm of Haskins and Sells, directed by the President July 7 to make an audit, reported that on July 31 Johnson, Mrs. Johnson and their two daughters Lynda Bird and Luci Baines, had assets of $3,682,770 and liabilities of $198,672. This placed their net worth at $3,484,098.

Most of the Johnson holdings were in the name of his wife Lynda Bird. She had a net worth of $2,126,298 compared with $378,081 for the president. Lynda Bird's net worth was $490,141 and Luci Baines' $498,578.

The audit showed that during the last 10 years Mrs. Johnson had drawn $570,856 in salary as an officer of Texas Broadcasting Corp. while her husband was getting $409,730 in salary and expenses. The family interest in the broadcasting company was valued at $2,543,838.

In arriving at the figures the auditors fixed the value of real estate held by the Johnsons at cost, less depreciation for the improvements on the land.

Haskins and Sells said in a letter to the President that the audit "conformed with generally accepted auditing standards." But it added that the amounts listed for holdings in the broadcasting corporation, ranch properties and real estate outside of Texas "are not intended to indicate the values that might be realized if the investments were sold."

A week ago, the Valley National Bank, Phoenix, Ariz. reported the wealth of GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and his wife at $1.7 million.

Fight Is Not Over, Cude Promises

MENA, Ark. (AP)—The forced vaccination of three children of farmer Archie Cude have taken, but Cude maintained Wednesday his long fight with the state is not over.

The doctor who gave the children the court-ordered smallpox vaccinations was able to determine the immunizations were positive, but not before the children fled from Sheriff Bruce Scoggin.

Just as Scoggin was taking them into the office the children ran. The got about two blocks before officers picked them up and brought them back to the doctor's office.

The state Supreme Court ruled April 6 that Cude did not have the right to prevent the children from being vaccinated. Chancellor Wesley Howard had ruled that they had to be vaccinated so they could attend school.

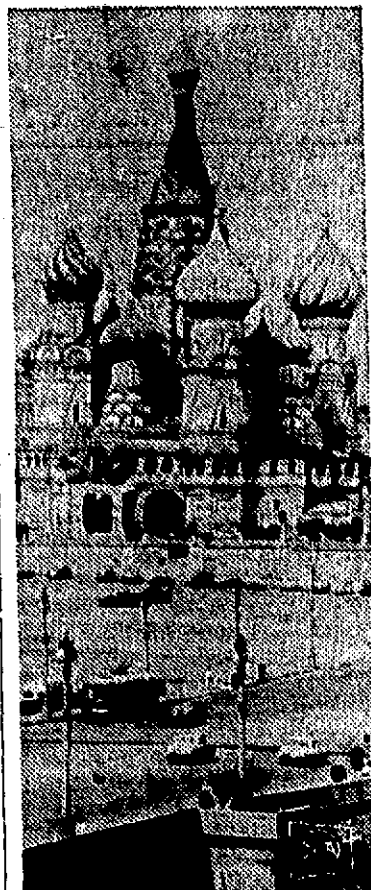

The oldest of the three, Wayne, 13, was in the second grade when school authorities found he was not vaccinated. Della, 11, and Linda, 9 have never been to school.

On Monday two days after the vaccinations, Cude said the vaccinations had not taken because it was God's will.

He admitted Wednesday that he had been mistaken, but said that because the vaccinations took did not necessarily mean that God approved of them, but only that He had not shown His hand.

The sheriff, who also had to take the fighting, screaming, kicking and biting children, to get the shots, said Wednesday: "This is the end of it as far as I'm concerned. It's up to the school authorities to get them in school."

Cude said the children would go to school but said no one could force them to study. He did not indicate what his next move would be.

Cude fought the vaccination because, he said, his reading of the Bible leads him to believe that medical treatment indicates lack of faith in God.

The Cude children attract wide attention when Gov. and Mrs. Orval E. Faubus took them into the mansion while their custody was being decided.

Buddhists Are Rallying in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A top Buddhist leader publicly assailed President Nguyen Khanh today as the government sought to avert an explosion on the first anniversary of the bloody pagoda raids.

Addressing a rally of 4,000 Buddhist youths, the leader, Tich Tan Chau, sharply criticized Khanh's assumption of additional power last Sunday when he ousted Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh as president and installed himself.

The rally—held in the grounds of the Buddhist Association headquarters here—was in commemoration of last year's pagoda raids by police under orders from the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Anxious to avoid an outbreak, police did not interfere during the rally and it ended without incident. But several Buddhist high school teachers said during the rally that they have been invited to police headquarters for questioning.

Khanh—who is a Buddhist—had ordered his armed forces to avoid entanglement with political and religious groups. He also warned students to stick to their books rather than demonstrations, or they might find themselves in the army.

Buddhist leaders have voiced fear that Khanh, now that he has pushed Min into the background, may create a regime similar to that of Diem.

Harris, Wilbur Mills, E. C. Gathings, and James Trimble—voted with the majority to pass a bill to remove jurisdiction in state legislative apportionment cases from federal courts. The vote was 218-175. Harris, Mills, Gathings and Trimble are Democrats.

11 Negroes Register at Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Eleven Negroes registered today to attend white schools after city public schools lowered first-grade racial barriers under a federal court desegregation order.

Galloway and Watkins schools reported one Negro each within 10 minutes after registration at the city's 26 white and 12 Negro elementary schools began. Both were boys accompanied by parents.

No incidents were reported. School officials said the Negroes were arriving mostly in private cars, accompanied by parents. Authorities refused to let other relatives accompany either white or Negro children for registration.

Police stood watching the schools but the grounds were all quiet.

The first registration of Negroes for desegregated classes in the state below the college level came last Friday at Biloxi. There were no incidents there.

The federal court suit which brought about integration in the Jackson schools was filed two years ago by Negro parents.

Judge Sidney Mize combined suits attacking segregation in Jackson, Biloxi and rural Lake County and ordered the schools in the three school systems to desegregate this fall.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)

"There will not be a single problem on our series that could not be handled by 'The Donna Reed Show,'" said Al Lewis in the earnest, intent manner that endeared him to "Car 54" audiences when he played officer Schnauzer.

But Donna Reed and her sunny, suburban family seemed far away. Lewis' face was covered with a thick layer of mauve greasepaint, his lips were an eerie combination of black and red paste. Behind him as he spoke, his old "Car 54" playmate, Fred Gwynne, totally unrecognizable in a foam rubber and mauve Frankenstein's monster make-up, lay strapped grotesquely in a torture chair in a cobweb-filled dungeon beside a mad scientist's work table where noxious brews bubbled and steamed.

"See?" said Lewis happily. "He's strapped down to keep from eating because he's gone on a crash diet so he can get back into his old uniform for a reunion with his wartime buddies. Later he breaks loose and eats the neighbor's Thanksgiving dinner."

That, kiddies, is the way it's going to be with "The Munsters," CBS' comedy series this fall. The basic device is that the Munster family consists of Gwynnes' Frankenstein type; a wife who looks like a vampire, Grandpa (Lewis), a member of the Dracula family; a weird, mauve-faced son — and a pretty blonde niece, source of worry because, to them, she looks abnormal.

A few miles away, in another studio, Carolyn Jones in a long black wig and slinky vampire-type dress was proudly showing to her adoring television husband — John Astin, made up to look like Peter Lorre at his evil best — a sweater with three sleeves which she was knitting.

Behind her were a conservatory, where she grows poisonous and man-eating plants, and a display of her husband's toy trains. His hobby is setting up miniature train wrecks.

That, lovers of laughter, is the way it's going to be with "The Addams Family," ABC's comedy series, this fall. "I have long felt that television comedy needed a new look," said creator and executive producer David Levy, who worked with cartoonist Charles Addams to convert his diabolic family from the pages of the New Yorker magazine to the small screen.

"The Munsters," it seems, will be a broader, more obvious spoof on the horror film. Grandpa's easy chair is an electric chair; the family phone booth is an upended, upholstered casket; the sun will shine on all the neat houses in their block, but it will always be stormy around the crumbling Victorian monstrosity where the Munsters live.

Act to permit presidential debates. The bill was tabled 44-1.

The Cost Is More Than Chicken Feed

By ELTON C. FAY

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is wondering whether the job of scouting out a hidden enemy may be for the birds. It is paying something more than chicken feed to find out.

The research program already has winged into its second phase.

The results of an initial feasibility study on birds' reconnaissance potential so encouraged Army scientists at the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Ground that a $174,472 contract has been signed with the General Atomics Corp. of Philadelphia.

When the Army awarded the contract, it would say only that it was a "research program of training birds for field surveillance" and that "the project is classified."

A spokesman went a bit farther today in answering questions: "The initial program was a study of the learning ability of birds. In this case, the study was to determine whether a bird can be taught to recognize the presence of a person and, if so, would the bird perform characteristic action indicating such recognition," the spokesman said.

"The feasibility study indicated positively that a bird can be taught and that a bird will perform a characteristic response indicating recognition of the presence of a person."

"On the basis of this, a further study is being initiated."

This was about as far as the spokesman was willing to go. Hunters have long believed that crows, and perhaps some game birds, have a system of surveillance and communicate warnings of perils to the flock.

Marshall said he thought the department branches had no authority to act to end and prevent riots like those recently in New York, New Jersey, Illinois and other states.

McClellan said he was the department's duty to find a means of ending the riots and punishing those who provoke the outbreaks.

Wants to Curb Racial Rioting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., wants the Justice Department to find a solution or recommend a legislative remedy to curb racial rioting, a text of hearings revealed Tuesday.

McClellan questioned assistant Attorney General Burke Marshall, who heads the department's civil rights division, in a Senate Appropriations subcommittee hearing on a department request for $1.9 million to use to enforce the civil rights law.

Marshall said he thought the department branches had no authority to act to end and prevent riots like those recently in New York, New Jersey, Illinois and other states.

McClellan said he was the department's duty to find a means of ending the riots and punishing those who provoke the outbreaks.

Personal Income Hits High in July

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Personal income hit a new high in July — officially. And this leads many to wonder: Whose income rose? Many persons reading the government report that personal incomes went up $1.5 billion to a record annual rate of $490.3 billion notd little, if any change in their own income. Most families probably found the bills just as hard to meet in July as in June.

But the government deals in totals rather than in individual cases. And it says the totals went up. They didn't climb as fast as they were rising in the early months of 1964 but still got a bit higher on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The government always adjusts such figures to take account of the usual variations at different periods of the year. And in many lines incomes change markedly from season to season. Without seasonal adjustment the charts of many government statistics would have more of a roller-coaster look than the steady rise that most show now.

The greater part of the July gain appears due to the rise in the number of employed. It was the new incomes that boosted the total rather than any notable change in the individual take of those already on the payroll.

Others who are better off than awhile back also include those who have benefited from increased dividend payments by many corporations, and those who cashed in on the six months-rise in prices of many stocks.

The biggest share of the July rise in income totals was in the wages and salaries division. This went up, at an annual rate of $1.2 billion to a total of $331.3 billion. Factory payrolls alone increased $200 million in July, putting the annual rate at $102.9 billion.

The Department of Commerce says that farm income slipped by $200 million in July to an annual rate of $17 billion.

Since personal incomes are the chief ingredient in the nation's economic mix, the prospects are good for a tasty dish this autumn — and hopefully, or at least the first part of 1965.

Take Flyer on Fryer for Weekend

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Take a flyer on a fryer this weekend; poultry prices are very attractive at many of the nation's groceries.

One national chain tags whole broiler-fryers at 29 cents a pound in its New York area outlets.

A per cent boost in marketing, toward an annual output of 320 million birds, is making this an especially inviting main course.

Baking hens and turkeys are spottily featured as competitive poultry offerings, but the emphasis is on fryers.

Beef continues to be a good buy, however, with brisket chuck and rib roasts and ground beef among the feature attractions.

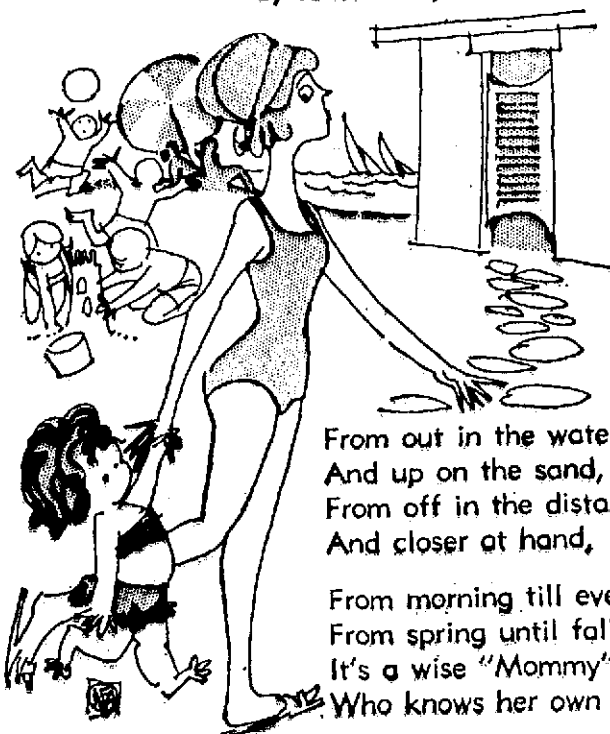

In pork, the top buys seem to be loins, roasts, hams, spare ribs sausage and bacon.

At vegetable counters chief attractions include green beans, cabbage, carrots, celery lettuce peas, peppers, squash sweet corn onions, potatoes and tomatoes.

Fruit selection is ample and varied including apples, cantaloupes, grapes, nectarines, peaches plums and watermelons.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Behold a Pale Horse" falls short of being a masterpiece by Fred Zinnemann but any film by the Vienna-born creator is an important event.

This is Zinnemann's first movie in four years, the last one being the poignant study of family survival, "The Sundowners." He then tried to fashion a filmable tale from James Michener's massive "Hawaii." He wanted to make two movies from the novel; United Artists wanted one. Impasse.

The director interested himself in the Emerit Pressburger novel, "Killing a Mouse on Sunday." It was a story of the aftermath of the Spanish civil war.

The project brought trouble from the start. The Spanis government placed a ban on all activities within the country for sponsoring the film. The Spaniards didn't like the book, and now Zinnemann reports they don't like the movie. Columbia is still banned.

The director claims "Behold a Pale Horse" is no more political than movies that show American police in a bad light. But the division of good and evil is plainly evident.

The good guy is Gregory Peck, an aging, irreverent guerrilla who has continued the war long after his side has lost, making forays from his exile home in France.

The bad guy is Anthony Quinn, a corrupt, adulterous commandant of the Guardia Civil, Spanish national police force. For years he has been bedeviled by Peck's raids across the border. Now, with the guerrilla's dying mother as bait, he sets a trap.

It is in the climax that "Behold a Pale Horse" seems to fail to achieve greatness. Peck's final show of defiance appears a pointless waste of life, including his own.

Peck creates one of his finest characterizations since "The Conqueror," in which he had a parallel role. Quinn is blustery self, and Omar Sharif is sympathetic though passive as a priest caught in the crossfire.

Rosy Picture Seldom True About Russia

By GEORGE SVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass often presents a rosy picture of the way things are going in the Soviet Union, while emphasizing troubles the rest of the world is having.

Although papers here frequently publish stories about Soviet crime, corruption, bureaucratic inefficiency and other domestic problems, such items seldom find their way onto the Tass wire.

On a typical day for example, Moscow daily papers, published stories on the following subject:

Soda vending machines that don't work.
Tax controls that encourage embezzlers of state property.

Complaints about spotty press coverage of new technical developments.

Factory directors who force workers to put in overtime without pay in order to fulfill monthly plan targets.

A young man convicted on charges of illegally selling study aids to students preparing for university entrance exams.

Poor organization of working hours of Soviet army officers.
Criticism of army officers' behavior.

And two stinging anti-alcoholism pieces.

None of the stories appeared on the Tass domestic or foreign wires.

However similar items from the West are eagerly passed through the agency's two-way censorship screen to make up the bulk of its foreign news coverage.

The government-run news agency also gives heavy play to Western labor strikes, accidents and disasters and political troubles.

Tass fulfills its assigned role as chronicler of the Soviet march to communism by churning out a seemingly endless stream of glowing reports of new economic and social achievements.

Favorable comment about the Soviet Union by foreign visitors and tourists is transmitted in bulk quantities on the overseas wire to foreign subscribers.

One of Tass' main functions is laying down the latest Kremlin line on important policy matters in the form of Tass statements, commentaries, and party-government documents.

Tass, therefore, is carefully studied abroad for switches or modifications of Soviet policies.

The agency now is engaged in an all-out assault on the Communist Chinese devoting several articles daily to polemical attacks on Peking.

It also appears to be attempting to counter Chinese and Western charges of Soviet imperialism and colonialism with a spate of pieces intended to impress foreigners with the progress made in the central Asian republics.

In recent years, Tass' directors have made determined efforts to streamline their cumbersome operation in the fashion of the major Western news agencies.

Major foreign news breaks are being reported on the Tass wire with considerably less delay than formerly. These reports usually are short and factual and without comment.

Later, when the Kremlin policy line has been laid down, expanded stories containing the official Soviet viewpoint are moved on the wire.

More than 80 per cent of the U.S. spice importations enter the country through the Port of New York.

Appeals One Year Prison Term

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Howard C. Hughes of Hot Springs appealed to the Arkansas Supreme Court Tuesday from a one-year prison term given him in Newton County Circuit Court. He was convicted of selling $1000 worth of stock in a non-existent nursing home to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lenz, both in their 70s, of Jasper.

The couple testified that Hughes and a companion told them they could stay in the home at less cost if they were stockholders in it.

The state Security Division of the Bank Department said Hughes was not registered as a broker-dealer under the 1959 law.

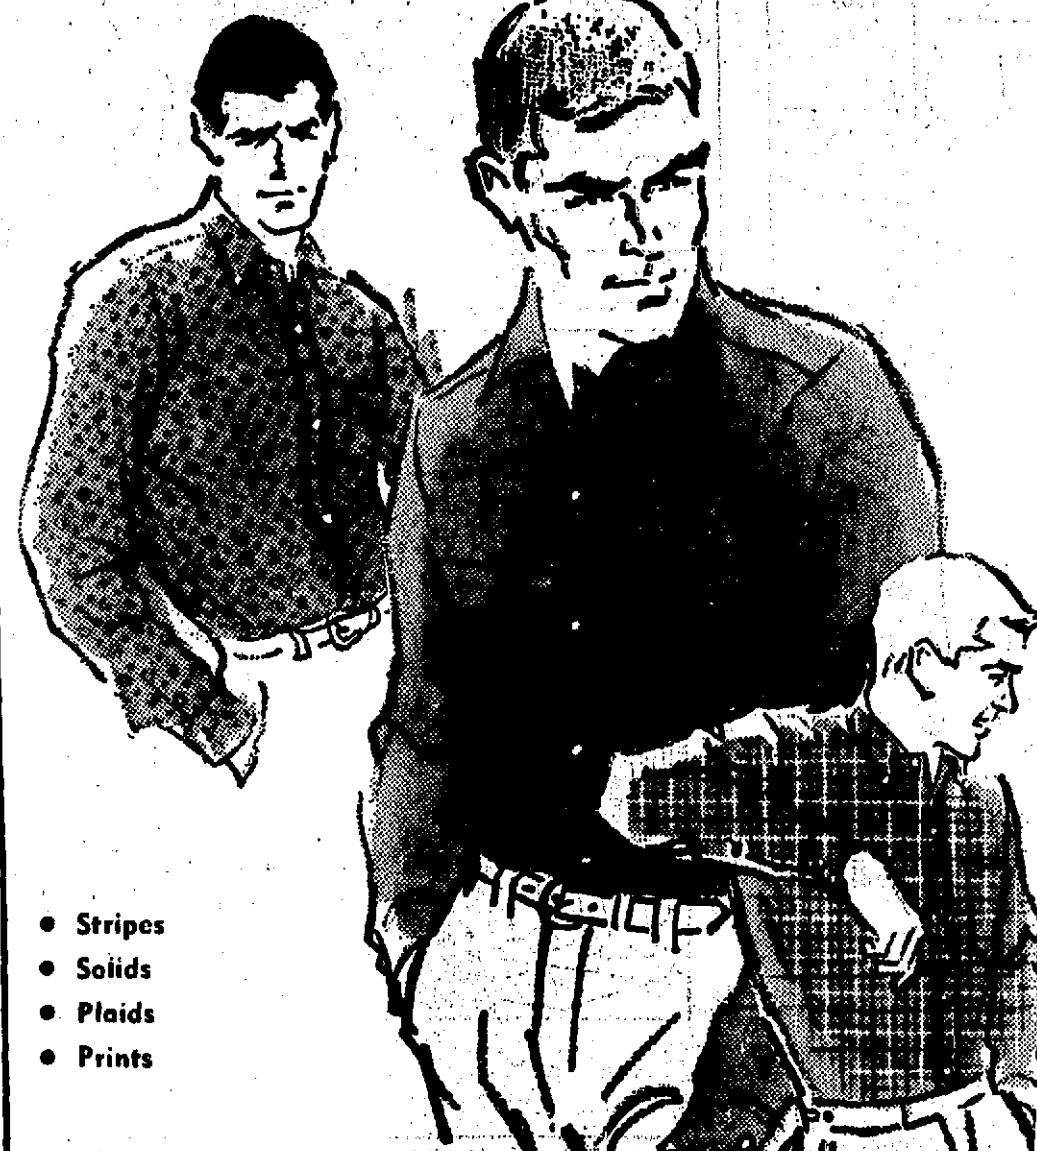

Hughes claims he is innocent.

Water Funds for Arkansas Staggering

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent two big money bills carrying about $120 million for various Arkansas projects to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

The bills were the $13.4 billion independent offices appropriations bill and the $4.4 billion public works bill.

Funds for Arkansas water projects, including the Arkansas River navigation program, were in the public works bill; and the independent offices bill provides money for five public building projects in the state.

Public building projects for Arkansas in the General Service Administration budget for fiscal 1965 (which started July 1) were:

Marshall, post office and office building, $178,100; Hope, post office and office building, $11,700; McCrory post office and office building, $91,800; Magnolia, for site and planning expenses of new post office and office building, $63,000; and Mountain Home, post office and office building, $179,800.

The public works bill provide more than $115 million for various Arkansas River projects.

Most important, Congress provided $98 million for the Arkansas River navigation project—sufficient to keep the project on a schedule which foresees completion to Tulsa, Okla., by 1970.

Individual water projects in Arkansas for which money is provided in the bill include:

Construction—Arkansas River bank stabilization, $15 million; Arkansas River navigation locks and dams (below Little Rock), $51,500,000; Beaver Reservoir, $4,500,000; Dardanelle Lock and Dam $10 million; DeGray Reservoir, $7,100,000; Garland City, $250,000; Gilliam Reservoir, $2,500,000; Manice Bayou upstream extension, $100,000; Millwood Reservoir, $17,687,000; Narrows Dam third power unit, $350,000; Ouachita and Black rivers, navigation project, $3,000,000; Ozark Lack and Dam,

A PARTY TABLE sure to make a hit with every Little Leaguer in town is this "big league" birthday setting designed especially for the small fry. Stacked bats, baseballs and ribbon-tied lollipops form the centerpiece; and inexpensive toy figures of major league players serve as fun-for-all favors. The table is set with durable, bounce-proof melamine dinnerware in an ivy pattern. Used in combination with a plasticized table cloth in ivy green and disposable baseball-motif paper napkins, this modern war-easy washable in the automatic dishwasher—leaves Mother's clean-up chores at a trouble-free minimum.

$1000; Red River levees below Denison Dam, $30,000.

Planning — De Queen reservoir, $245,000; Dierks reservoir, $150,000; Village Creek, White River and Mayberry levee districts $87,000.

Arkansas also is interested in several river basin studies for which funds are provided in the bill. These include Red River below Denison Dam, $300,000; White River, Ark., and Mo.,

Fresh Ideas Spark Summer Settings

SOPHISTICATED WHIMSY keynotes this charming mid-summer table setting planned by Melamine Councill decorating experts for a patio brunch or woodland picnic. The cool tones of yellow and green in the rose design of the carefree melamine dinnerware are repeated in the casual arrangements of mixed wild-flowers on the table. The mischievous straw deer, which doubled earlier as a lunch basket, is caught stealing sprigs from among posies in the smaller basket. A loose-woven plaid cloth in muted yellow and woody brown colors, and floral patterned napkins, add to the gay informality of the occasion.

Mrs. Kennedy Returning Home

PORTO ERCOLE, Italy (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy plans to end her vacation on the Argentario Peninsula Wednesday to start her trip back to the United States, police sources said today.

They said she would take a yacht from this picturesque village on her way to an airport. Presumably she would go to Rome's Fiumicino Airport at the mouth of the Tiber. The sources said she plans to reach $300,000 and the Arkansas River pollution study in Oklahoma—Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Another item of interest to the state is the several projects included in the $77,862,000 program for the Lower Mississippi River and tributaries.

These include the channel improvement program for which nearly $27 million was provided; the St. Francis Basin project, $3,700,000; the Lower Arkansas program, $300,000 and the Bouff and Tennesse river project in Louisiana and Arkansas.

In addition to the construction, planning and survey money allocated to Arkansas projects, there also is the customary funds required for operation and maintenance of existing projects. In the case of Arkansas this year this amounts to about $4.2 million.

California Fighting for Braceros

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California growers are far from resigned to the loss of their braceros — those hard-working Mexicans who help crops.

Outside the San Joaquin Valley community of Stockton, farmer Sam Loduca grimly watched the men in straw hats harvest cucumbers for 25 cents a bushel and remarked: "I'm glad I don't like cucumbers. There won't be any next year."

Like Loduca, other growers are counting the days until Dec. 31, the expiration date of Phibler Law 78 under which more than 100,000 Mexican citizens came to the United States for farm work last year.

State officials say growers are quietly exerting pressure on Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown to fight for some sort of bracero legislation next year.

Although the official position of the Council of California Growers is not to seek extension of the bracero program, farmers and the Brown administration say California agriculture faces a difficult season next year without it.

Despite the hard-core unemployment in California and elsewhere, state officials admit failure in the search for Americans to replace the bracero.

"In our view, we're going to have a real bad time next year to make up the labor force needed," said Albert B. Tieburg, state employment director.

Organized labor says there would be no shortage of domestic labor if farmers would pay more than the $1 an hour guaranteed to the Mexican nationals.

"There is no job that Americans won't do if they get paid for it," said Al Green, who directs the AFL-CIO's Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee. He suggested a $2 an hour minimum wage.

Braceros, paid by piece work, earn varying amounts. They averaged $1.50 an hour picking tomatoes not far from San Francisco Bay; 90 cents an hour for thinning cantaloupes in Southern California's Riverside County and $1.25 for picking cantaloupes farther north in Fresno County.

New York by Thursday night.

Today Mrs. Kennedy went by car for a brief visit to Orbetello, a historic fortress town on the narrow neck of land that links the mountainous Argentario to the Tuscan mainland.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There is a lot more to television than meets the eye. In the case of character actor Herschel Bernardi it adds up to an annual income of around $100,000.77. Bernardi, who has been the guest star in television series ranging from "Bortanza" to "Dr. Kildare," is particularly remembered for his portrait of the weary, cynical and soft-hearted Lieut. Jacoby of 114 "Peter Gunn" adventures.

His semi-secret career a profitable one, started about eight years ago when he learned there was a demand for "character voices" to be used in television commercials.

"I made a tape recording of some material I'd developed for a comedy routine that used 23 different voices," he recalled. "Then I jumped on my motor scooter and went from agency to agency selling myself."

The "gag voices," as Bernardi calls them, started a whole new sideline. His face never is used. He has produced the voices of a rejected tuna, a service station, a candy bar, a sick automobile and a squirrel, among others.

"This turned into my freedom crusade," said Bernardi. "It made me free to do the things I really wanted to do as an actor."

But after a time, fashions in commercials started to change — gag voices, even 22 of them, were no longer in such great demand. Bernardi's voice was caught in that deadly theatrical trap: type-casting.

"I invested about $300 in another tape, still a comedy sketch, and id a lot of other voices with a 'soft sex sell,' the new big thing," he said.

That worked, too: "It's a joy to go to the mailbox and see it stuffed with those lovely residual checks."

Meanwhile he has been working steadily in featured movie roles, many television assignments and has even found time for summer stock.

Sees Long Session After the Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana indicated today Congress faces a long session after the recess for the Democratic National Convention.

Asked whether he thinks Congress will remain in session all year, Mansfield replied "not quite." He talked with newsmen after the weekly breakfast of Democratic leaders with President Johnson.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said the leaders discussed with Johnson the record of Congress as far this year. He called it "a record that has few parallels."

Out of 52 major proposals Johnson submitted to Congress, McCormack said, 37 have been enacted; an additional 6 are in conference; 2 are on the House calendar and 2 on the Senate calendar while 4 are in committee.

"This is a can-do record in keeping with the mood of the administration," McCormack said.

Savagery of Murder in Congo Told

By ROBIN MANNOK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — An account of savagery and murder has been brought back by a Congolese driver who witnessed the death of two U.N. officials on a mercy mission to a Watutsi refugee camp.

The driver reported to U.N. authorities Tuesday that the two Frenchmen were hacked with machetes and hit with a burst of machinegun fire by a mob of Watutsi warlords and Congolese rebels.

As the crowd hurled itself on him, Jean Plique, 33, head of the Bukavu branch of the International Labor Organization, pleaded: "Gentlemen we are here to help you and not for anything else."

A Congolese rebel then fired a dozen shots at Plique and his companion, Francois Preziosi, 43, Bukavu representative of the U. N. High Commission for Refugees.

Plique and Preziosi had gone to the encampment just north of Bukavu on Lake Kivu in the eastern Congo to free 120 refugees held by authorities and investigate reports of threatened reprisals against Watutsi refugees.

The tall and fierce Watutsi have been fleeing Rwanda since 1959 when their former slaves, the Bahutu, gained control of the country. About 60,000 Watutsi are in the Congo.

George Yogofero, the Congolese chauffeur of the U.N. officials, said the two men had been warned that the Watutsi sympathized with Communist-supported rebels in the area, but that they insisted on carrying out their mission.

As they approached the camp, Yogofero said, they saw men armed with submachine guns, rifles and gasoline bombs lurking along the roadside. After continuing a third of a mile, the car was stopped by the rebels and some Watutsi carrying spears and machetes.

"The crowd began to howl, including the women and children who were at short distance away," the driver said. He stepped out of the car, waving a white handkerchief.

Vote With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reps. Owen Harris, Wilbur Mills, E. C. Gathings and James Trimble, all Democrats from Arkansas, voted with the majority Tuesday as the House passed 232-149 a bill to establish meat import quotas.

'BON VOYAGE' PARTY FOR FALL VACATIONERS

FALL VACATIONS, like fall weddings, are becoming more and more popular every year. For those lucky friends who've decided to "avoid all those summer tourists" and schedule an autumn holiday, here's a delightfully easy way to give them a happy send-off. Invite them to a gay bon voyage luncheon, planning your table around colorful easy-care melamine dinnerware and some smart and inexpensive new table trimmings designed just for the purpose. "Plans-a-Party" coordinated decorations like those used here say "happy landings" with a special light-hearted flair. The smiling bellboy centerpiece of honeycomb paper reappears in the design of both the nut cups and the paper napkins. Places are set with a new melamine dinnerware pattern, decorated in the fall mood with a cluster of luscious purple grapes. Lime green accessory pieces in the dinnerware echo the green tones of the grape leaves and add extra dashes of color against the bright lemon yellow paper tablecloth. With ready-made decorations already coordinated and dinnerware clean-up a mere jiffy task in the automatic dishwasher, the party's a joy to plan and fun for everybody, including the hostess.

Cigarette Sales Back From Slump

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cigarettes have rocketed back from the slump that followed a government report in January linking them to lung cancer and heart disease.

U.S. factories shipped almost 45.2 billion cigarettes in June — an increase of about 8.5 per cent over June 1963, the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

While cigarettes were making their comeback, cigar sales dropped in June.

Small cigars, to which many switched early this year, took a nosedive. Shipments dropped from 190 million in May to 38 million in June. But the June figure was still double that for small cigars in June 1963.

The slump in cigarette sales had set in right after the government committee headed by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry issued its report in January. There was a considerable rebound in April, but June was the first month to show a sizable increase over the corresponding month of 1963.

June's 8.5 per cent increase compares to a normal year-to-year increase of 2 or 3 per cent.

A report issued by the Council for Tobacco Research — U.S.A., said 10 years of tobacco industry-supported studies had produced no laboratory proof of a link between smoking and lung cancer or evidence that smoking contributes significantly to heart and circulatory ailments or stomach ulcers.

Dr. Wendell G. Scott, president of the American Cancer Society, said Tuesday in New York that the report by the industry group was "self-serving and published without regard for the public welfare."

The American Cancer Society has said cigarette smoking is a serious health hazard.

NAACP Asks Stronger Civil Rights Plank

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leader Roy Wilkins urged Democratic platform writers today to pledge vigorous enforcement of the new civil rights law and give the country a contrast with what he called the "squeamish circumspection" of the Republican plank.

Wilkins, chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights and secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, declared that "the riots which have shaken several urban communities cannot be condoned." He said they must be understood against a background of deprivation and frustration.

Wilkins' testimony was prepared for the Democratic platform committee as it considered the civil rights issue, considered the most difficult to treat in a plank acceptable to all wings of the party.

A trial balloon floated by some Southern moderates for a compromise statement that might avoid a floor fight appeared to have been shot down when Pierre Pelham, a committee member from Alabama, said Tuesday he could accept nothing less than a call for repeal of the Civil Rights Act.

The Republican platform language that aroused Wilkins' scorn includes a call for "full implementation and faithful execution" of new and old civil rights laws, improvements as needed and any necessary action to ensure the right to vote.

But Wilkins said the slogan, "leave civil rights matters to the states has become the hall mark" of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate. Goldwater has said he accepts the Republican platform and, as president, would enforce the laws.

Ft. Smith Names a New Mayor

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Jim Yarbrough, 56, an employee of a storm window firm, was elected mayor of Fort Smith Tuesday.

He defeated Ernest Westfall, a realtor, 5,831-3,518 in complete but unofficial returns. Yarbrough led a field of eight in an election Aug. 4 called to elect a successor to Mayor Robert Brooksher, who resigned July 19 to take a business position.

Westfall trailed Yarbrough by about 400 votes in the first election. Yarbrough takes office Monday.

Malvern Okays Industrial Bonds

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — Hot Springs County voters approved $4.5 million in industrial bonds in a special election here Tuesday. The bond would finance construction of an aluminum foil plant.

The vote on both issues was 2,805-500.

Amendment 49 bond totaling $400,000 would buy the Parla Industrial site and the closed plant of International Shoe Co.

The $3.6 million in Act 9 bonds would be used to build the foil plant which would be operated by Ozark Foil, Inc.

BJ Policy Rock and Rock Them

By JAMES MARLOW

The Defense Department promptly fired back that this statement of the Republican presidential candidate was "without foundation" and was "contrary to the facts" and was "totally false."

McNamara followed this up in his personal appearance before the platform committee.

"Let me assure you that our strategic forces are and will remain in the 1960s and 1970s sufficient to insure the destruction of both the Soviet Union and Communist China under the worst imaginable circumstances accompanying the outbreak of war," McNamara said.

"There should be no doubt about this in the mind of any American. There is none in the minds of our enemies."

Then he unloaded a mountain of statistics to show this country not only is superior to the Communist world in weaponry — and will continue so — but that it is prepared for any kind of war, big or little.

He called American defenses an "aggregation of force without parallel in human history."

All this will probably not discourage Goldwater from future criticisms. But, judging from the speed and magnitude of McNamara's response, plus that of Johnson himself, the administration apparently is set to smash into Goldwater from now on.

Last week Goldwater told a news conference that in dealing with the Southeast Asia crisis Johnson seemed to have military commanders authority to use the "whole inventory" of American weapons. The "whole inventory," of course, would have to include nuclear weapons.

Johnson himself, in telling the nation Aug. 4 that he had authorized American carrier-based planes to hit North Viet Nam PT boat centers, explained he had ordered only "limited action."

The next day McNamara told a news conference that the naval commanders of U.S. ships off North Viet Nam had been instructed to protect themselves with "whatever force is necessary."

The State Department in the name of McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk issued a statement calling Goldwater's interpretation of Johnson's remarks "unjustified and irresponsible."

Last Saturday at his own news conference Johnson said of Goldwater's interpretation:

"Loose charges on nuclear weapons without any shadow of justification by any candidate for office, let alone the president, are a disservice to our national security, a disservice to peace, and, as for that matter, a great disservice to the entire free world."

And the campaign hasn't even started.

The crawfish often is called "freshwater lobster."

Freight Train Burglarized Near Foreman

FOREMAN, Ark. (AP) — A Frisco Railway freight train was disconnected and burglarized while idle at a switch near here shortly before midnight Tuesday, Sheriff Audrey Thrash said.

Four men were arrested later as they drove toward Oklahoma, Thrash said. Burglary charges were to be filed against them, the sheriff said.

Thrash said the train's six-man crew had left the train on the main track for a switching operation at the Foreman Cement Plant when the men apparently entered the caboose.

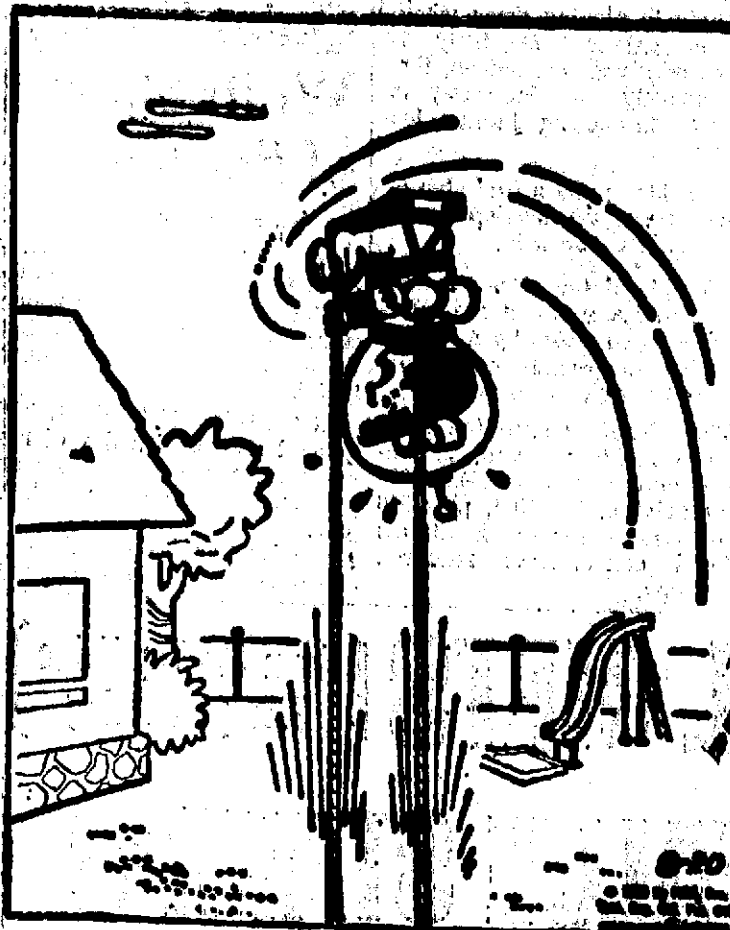

At least one of the men is a former railroad worker, Thrash said. The burglars uncoupled several cars.

The crew returned, started the train, and found that some of the cars were uncoupled. When the engineer failed to get a signal from the caboose the rest of the crew went to the rear of the train and found the conductor chasing the burglars.

They escaped with two suitcases carrying the crew's belongings. Thrash said the suitcases were found beside a country road today.

BRAVO BRAND By Nelson C. Nye

Copyright 1964 Nelson C. Nye. Published by Nye-Nye-Schultz, Inc.

THE STORY: Although Sheriff Sam Renwick says the shooting nearly cost Frank Ives his life was all a mistake, Ives is told to make tracks out of town. But after Renwick leaves, a man offers him feed for his horse.

IV
Ives, gone motionless, did not at once turn. Forty hours of consistent riding had gone into putting him where he was now, and a long acquaintance with trouble had built up certain guagues, extra sensory perceptions, applied by reflex in moments like this.

He stood where the words had caught him until he heard boot sounds moving heavily away, then waited another several beats of his heart before gathering his reins and swinging into the saddle.

Even then he peered elsewhere kind of hopeless and undecided before twisting his head to look after the man.

It had been his experience that in every community there were a few cross-grained diehards who refused to conform to the established pattern. These generally fell into one of two categories and free thinkers, by every sign and signal smoke, rather tended to become embarrassing companions.

These frequently turned out to have axes to grind or to be so honest the devil wouldn't have them. Either way they spelt danger to a man as crammed with distrust as Frank Ives.

He scanned the departing man from between lowered eyelids while pretending to be trying to locate another livery. He studied first the man's boots which were made of soft leather and behind a full cargo of dust looked expensive. The high heels showed no wear and were adorned with big-roweled spurs of heavy silver.

Even before Ives' critical eyes traveled farther he had gathered an impression he did not wholly like. The next thing he looked at was the ivory-buffed six-shooter holstered from the gleaming brass of a dark and hand-tooled cartridge belt below the flaps of a hung-open vest.

This fellow was big, large boned and well fleshed, a man whose eating came from high on the hog. No sign of a neck, the head sat his shoulders like an oversized pumpkin and, beyond the black hair, appeared about the same color and texture.

Ives, letting him go, cut the gelding left to round a passing wagon piled high with what in Oklahoma would have been called bundles — a kind of feed sorg hum.

Still stabbing signs with his heavy-lidded glance Ives moved pretty near the length of the street before locating another haven for horses, a shabby barn of a place, up the runway of which Silverspurs tramped without once looking back.

Ives wondered what would happen if he elected to shove straight on. Pretty hard to see profit in getting people's backs up, and any such daydream was a purely rhetorical question. Unless he were prepared to tuck tail and run, a man's days were numbered unless he had help and wishing was good time wasted, survival being the first law of nature.

Silverspurs had dissolved in a flutter of shadows before the yellow gelding placed Ives in reach of the runway's lantern. An old man reluctantly unfolded himself from a bale of oat straws to reach for the reins as Ives stepped down. He did not ask the stranger's pleasure, but jerked his chin at a yonder door.

Ives grumpily stared, not liking any part of this. Closed doors had triggered any number of traps and for all the proof he had to the contrary that sheriff could have put Silverspurs up to gulling him.

The door was hinged with straps of leather and Ives, coming up on the balls of his feet, was mightily minded to kick the thing in and meet whatever was behind it with a smoking gun. He was leaning toward this when a hand touched his shoulder.

"Go ahead, Latigo. If I'd been taking orders from Renwick there'd have been no point in this kind of run around."

It was Silverspurs' voice, and the fact that the man had again gotten behind him, went far toward showing Ives the position he was in. It did not lessen his distrust or even preclude the possibility of a trap, but it did make the notion of a rub-out seem — at least right now — considerably less likely.

He pushed open the door and stepped aside and the man, showing past him in the dark, struck a light, Ives' hand was wrapped about his still holstered gun, and, in that raveling flame, Silverspurs' soft grunt acknowledged this precaution with pulled back lips before he pushed the door against the click of the latch and, turning applied his match to a lamp.

Development May Be Key to Leukemia

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new cancer research development, which a Senate group says forebodes a likely major breakthrough in pin-pointing the leukemia of childhood, became known in detail today.

The Senate Appropriations Committee referred to the development in general terms in a report released Tuesday. Commenting on it and other scientific findings reported in recent hearings, the committee said: "Effective methods of prevention and cure (of leukemia) seem distinct possibilities in the light of several observations, some old and some new."

Perhaps the key finding — made so recently that the scientists involved have not yet had their findings published in medical literature — is that virus-like particles found in the blood of some human victims of leukemia can apparently be made to grow in laboratory test tubes.

The development — climaxing three years of effort dating from the time when such particles were first found in leukemia patients — is a necessary prelude to pinning down whether the particles are truly viruses and whether, indeed, they are directly or indirectly involved in causing human leukemia.

It could also be a first step towards trying to develop a vaccine against leukemia.

Officials of the National Cancer Institute supplied the information when asked by a reporter what the Senate committee was referring to in its report.

The Senate committee gave its views in a report to the Senate recommending a $140,011,000 appropriation for NCI, plus $10 million more for the institute's special cancer-virus research programs.

Quiet Frenzy Waits Show of Beatles

By DAVID COWGER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A quiet frenzy hung like fog in the air today as thousands of youngsters prepared to storm the Cow Palace for the Beatles' concert tonight.

At the Hilton Hotel the British quartet scheduled a day of rest in preparation for their first appearance on the current U. S. tour.

The Beatles arrived Tuesday and were greeted by an estimated 8000 teenagers, far below predicted estimates of between 50,000 and 100,000. About a dozen girls required first aid. None was seriously hurt.

The British group permitted their fans a 40-second audience at the airport before they were whisked off to the downtown hotel. A press conference turned into an autograph session when several young fans slipped into the hotel.

Some fans arrived at the airport Monday night. Others began arriving at 6:30 a.m. more than 12 hours before the Beatles' plane touched down.

Police estimated 2,000 fans greeted the singers when they arrived at the hotel.

Within minutes the four were at the window of their room on the 18th floor. A faithful throng gathered.

Youngsters roared each time one of them appeared in the window. Shrieks could be heard two blocks away.

In the lobby and main floor corridors hundreds of young girls dressed in slacks, Beatle sweatshirts and sneakers roamed about in hope of catching a glimpse of their heroes.

At a news conference later the Beatles obligingly identified themselves for reporters and photographers who seemed to have trouble telling them apart.

Youth Bitten by a Rabid Skunk

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A 12-year-old Glenwood boy has begun anti-rabies treatment because a skunk bit him last Sunday.

The skunk bit the boy and a 3-year-old companion while they were in a sleeping bag on a camping outing. The 32-year-old father of the younger boy also of Glenwood, was bitten when he tried to capture the skunk.

The skunk escaped into the woods.

Dr. Harvie R. Ellis, director of the Division of Veterinary Medicine of the state Health Department, said the father and

By RICHARD E. MEYERS

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — A small army of firefighters controlled all but one of north-central Nevada's raging range fires today.

The one fire, still menacing the rangeland, was the biggest — The Boulder Flat - Maggie Creek blaze which has consumed almost 200,000 acres of tinder-dry grass.

The Boulder Flat fire was burning wildly out of control in a northward direction today.

The younger boy had been advised to begin anti-rabies shots.
